WELCOME TO THE INAUGURAL ISSUE OF STUDENT CREATIVES!

We're thrilled to unveil the very first issue of Student Creatives Summer 2023, a platform designed to amplify the voices of young creatives. This publication is for teens aged 15-19 to showcase their creative talents and delve into the powerful theme of justice.

Justice is a concept at the forefront of our world today, and we believe young people have a unique and valuable perspective to share. Through Student Creatives, we hope to empower teens to express themselves artistically and explore what justice means to them.

This inaugural issue is a testament to that very spirit. We're excited to present remarkable works from our first four creatives – a poem, an essay, a photograph, and a striking visual representation of our current times. Each piece promises a thought-provoking journey, waiting to be experienced by you, the reader.

Meet our first Creatives:

- Shakira Ali, College Park Academy, Prince George's County, MD
- Skylar Griffin, Watkins Mill High School, Montgomery County, MD
- Idiakosa Ighile, Wheaton High School, Montgomery County, MD
- Rachel Ndobu, Paint Branch High School, Montgomery County, MD
